Discussion

5. Dy MD, Central Organisation, ECHS presented the agenda point. He highlighted the dichotomy as to how currently, only the wife and unmarried children 'below the age of 18 years' are treated as dependents at ECHS for ESM, whereas, for dependents of 'in-service' personnel, there is no age restriction for dependent children. He exhibited the RMSAF-2010 letter as per which, as on date for dependents of "In service" personnel, there is no age restriction. As per norm, medical facilities at service hospitals needed to be optimized for ECHS facility as well. He suggested for a case to reconcile and align as per the current practice.

6. Chairman PPOC & AG, IHQ MoD (Army) directed ADG DGAFMS (HR) & Secy MSAC, O/o DGAFMS to take up a case for modification of the RMSAF letter to which, Addl DGAFMS (HR) & Secy MSAC, O/o DGAFMS confirmed that the case has been already taken up for the same and is under review. Dy MD, Central Organisation, ECHS then went onto the second issue which is corollary of the same i.e. issue of Disability certificate. It was clarified that, once the recommended modification is carried out to the RMSAF letter quoted ibid, the issue of disability certificate would automatically get resolved.

7. COP, IHQ MoD (Navy) suggested a policy letter may be issued for the same and Chairman PPOC & AG, IHQ MoD (Army) recommended that an interim policy letter be issued to resolve all ambiguity whilst RMSAF is under revision. Col AFMS (Health), O/o DGAFMS highlighted the age of dependent children of current ex-service personnel who are ECHS members as that of 'upto 25 years for sons and daughters'. Chairman PPOC & AG, IHQ MoD (Army) advised the same may be included in the recommended interim policy letter. It was corrected that there is no age limit for 'unmarried daughters'. At this juncture, Chairman PPOC & AG, IHQ

MoD (Army) clarified that as of now, only spouse and unmarried children and not brothers and sisters are authorised treatment whilst in service. However, once one becomes an ESM under ECHS, then the ECHS cover is applicable to brothers and sisters also but the same does not need to be carried forward.

8. COP, IHQ MoD (Navy) brought out that if CGHS permits treatment of brothers and sisters whilst in service then why isn't it applicable to Armed Forces personnel whilst in service as ECHS is based on the CGHS model itself. Col AFMS (Health), O/o DGAFMS clarified that Armed Forces haven't adopted the definition of CGHS which is also considering revision of categories to be included for the purpose of 'Family'.

9. Recommendation. The following recommendations were made by the Chairman PPOC & AG, IHQ MoD (Army):-

(a) Contravention / interpretation of Para 296(O) of RMSAF 2010 needs to be amended for treatment to dependents of ESM above 18 yrs of age.

(b) Case be taken up through O/o DGAFMS.

10. Chairman PPOC & AG, IHQ MoD (Army) recommended that case be taken up by ECHS to bring in the collegiance of dependent brothers/ sisters on the same lines as being done for ESM as well as CGHS employees, for all "In service" personnel. It was highlighted by Dy MD, Central Organisation, ECHS that a decision had been given by PPOC in 2017 as to how brothers & sisters of ECHS members are entitled for treatment only for empaneled hospitals and not from AFMS hospitals. It was again clarified that the definition of Family as issued by the Govt in 1962 is very clear. It is the service personnel himself, spouse and dependent children upto the age of 18 years. In 1969, Govt amended it that parents wholly dependent are also entitled in case of service personnel. For ESM, it was only for the ESM himself if he was disabled. In 1966 it was brought in for non-disabled ESM also, with the same definition of family. So, as per Govt policy, its been this for AFMS alone and not as per the CGHS policy.

11. COP, IHQ MoD (Navy) again highlighted the disparity as to how a civilian avails CGHS for the entire family even whilst in service, unlike Armed Forces. Chairman PPOC & AG, IHQ MoD (Army) suggested the case be taken up separately to broaden the category for service personnel on similar lines as that of a civilian availing CGHS.

12. Decision. Chairman PPOC & AG, IHQ MoD (Army) directed that the case for amendment of Para 296(O) of RMSAF 2010 to extend treatment of dependents of ESM over 18 years be taken up through the O/o DGAFMS.
